This spacious, well cared for villa will appeal to both investors and owner occupiers.

Built in 2013 with a neutral colour palette, the interior still looks fresh and up-to-date, and the long term tenant (vacating the property in mid-July) has taken great care of the property.

The L-shaped kitchen includes generous cupboard, drawer and bench space (dishwasher, of course), and the open-plan layout optimises the feeling of space in the adjoining living area. The living room sliding doors open onto a private courtyard.

The villa also has some disabled-friendly features such as a generous sized main bathroom that accommodates a cavernous shower space, and there is a wider than usual
